["SHUNG PO" SERVICE.]

Peking, May 26.

Over three hundred Chinese have been murdered during the recent Mexican revolt. Instructions have been given to the Si Yap Chamber of Commerce not to allow any Chinese to enter Mexico for the present.

[A Washington cable dated May 22 says:—It is reported that a large number of Chinese have been slaughtered by Mexican insurgents at Torreon, in the state of Durango. The news comes in the nature of an appeal for protection and redress to the Chinese minister, who also represents his government in Mexico, and is partially confirmed by other advisers.

These reports are to the effect that the insurgents attacked and pillaged the Chinese quarter of the town and during the attack killed 225 of the Chinese residents. It is said that many others were wounded and much money and property carried away.

The Chinese minister has asked for an investigation and has dispatched an agent to the scene. Torreon is in a mining district south of the larger and better known town of Lerdo.]

CANTON NEWS.

["TELEGRAPH" CORRESPONDENT.]

Canton, May 26.

Annamites' Outrage.

Not long ago some Annamites crossed over to Si-ling in the Province of Kwangsi and captured one Chinese and killed one. The outrage was reported to H. E. the Viceroy who referred the matter to the Consul concerned, in accordance with treaty stipulations. The Consul replied that he had no power to act, as the case would be settled by the Government of Annam. H. E. the Viceroy is in receipt of a despatch from the Governor of Kwangsi to the effect that the affair has caused great agitation in the minds of the Kwangsi people and the Governor is afraid that trouble may be anticipated along the border. The Governor asked the Viceroy to settle the affair without further delay. As the Consul has refused to take up the case, the Viceroy has no alternative but to refer the matter to the Board of Foreign Affairs in Peking. The Board will soon open negotiations with the foreign Minister concerned.

Coolies for Mexico.

The Board of Foreign Affairs has telegraphed to the Canton Viceroy that a foreigner is seeking a supply of Chinese coolies from the interior for Mexico. The Board has not received any communication from the foreign Minister concerned on the subject. The Viceroy is asked to instruct his junior officials to prevent the foreigner from getting a supply of coolies from Kwangtung. On receipt of the telegram, the Viceroy instructed the diplomatic commissioner to investigate and to report.

Smuggling: Preventive Measures.

Owing to the number of cases of smuggling of arms and ammunition discovered recently, the Board of Foreign Affairs has deemed it expedient to find out the exact zones of the Chinese territorial waters on the coast, in order to prevent the foreign nations from treating it as international waters. This will save any dispute arising from the seizure of arms on board foreign vessels. The Board of Foreign Affairs has accordingly drawn up a plan showing each of the maritime provinces and presented same to the foreign Ministers at Peking. The Board has also sent a copy to the Canton Viceroy for reference.

AMERICAN NEWS.

[VIA MANILA.]

Diaz to Sail for Europe.

Washington, May 25.—The State Department has been advised that President Diaz of Mexico has planned to sail Tuesday for Europe on the French steamer Espague. It will be remembered that some two or six weeks ago President Diaz sent his secretary to Germany and that it was reported that he carried the family jewellery and valuable papers of President Diaz, which included bonds that represent a large part of the wealth of the retiring Mexican dictator.

A recent Washington cable to the Cablenews-American was to the effect that Diaz would leave Mexico May 25.

New Secretary for War.

Washington, May 23.—Henry L. Stimson, the newly appointed Secretary of War of the United States took the oath of office to-day. Following this ceremony Secretary Stimson received the chiefs of bureaus of his portfolio. Later he was presented to his associates in the cabinet.

President's Summer Capital.

Washington, May 23.—President Taft is now being deluged with offers of summer capitals from almost every quarter of the United States. It is generally known that Haverly, Massachusetts, was very unsatisfactory to the President and that a different place will probably be selected for the coming season. So far President Taft has made no choice from the many capitals offered him.

Mexican Trouble.

Washington, May 22.—General Madero having refused to go to the Mexican capital, the treaty of peace between the government and the insurgents was to-day signed at Juarez, where the rebels had established their capital. The terms of the document show the almost complete dominance of the insurgents.

The peace pact provides that President Porfirio Diaz and Vice President Ramon Corral shall resign from office by June 1st. It is also stipulated that the insurgents shall name six of the eight members of the cabinet and that a large number of the governors of states shall be appointed at the suggestion of the insurgents. It was upon the stipulation of these propositions that the peace agreement was signed.

Arrangements are now being made to put the terms of the agreement into effect.

Kidnapping Plot.

Washington, April 12.—Through the fact that three detectives are on watch in the home of Edward B. McLean, son of John R. McLean, was revealed to-day there has been a plot to kidnap the "richest baby in the world." Several warning letters have been received, threatening to blow up the big McLean home if thousands of dollars are not given on a certain date. It is said the letters have been reaching the McLean home with regularity in the past two months and Mrs. McLean was prostrated with fright at the idea of losing her child. She insists that a careful guard be kept over the house during the entire day and so three detectives are constantly on watch.

ECLIPSE!

On the evening before the last solar eclipse in Germany the colonel of a regiment sent for the sergeants and said: "There will be an eclipse of the sun to-morrow. The regiment will meet on the parade ground in undress. I will come and explain the eclipse before drill. If the day is cloudy the men will meet in the drill shed as usual." Thereupon the sergeants drew up the following order of the day: "To-morrow morning, by order of the colonel, there will be an eclipse of the sun. The regiment will assemble on the parade ground, where the colonel will come and superintend the eclipse in person. If the sky is cloudy the eclipse will take place in the drill shed."

HAYES BILL SEEKS TO BAR ASIATICS.

A Drastic Measure.

An immigration bill, affecting all Asiatic people, was introduced by Representative Hayes of California. The bill provides that all laws now in force prohibiting or regulating the coming of Chinese, or persons of Chinese descent, into the United States, be made to apply to Japanese, Koreans, Tartars, Malays, Afghans, East Indians, Lascars, Hindus and all persons of Mongolian or Asiatic race.

It is further provided that all persons affected by the proposed law who are now in the United States, other than those engaged as teachers, students, merchants, bankers, professional men or persons touring the country for pleasure, must, within a year after the passage of the act, apply to the secretary of commerce and labour for a certificate of residence.

All such persons who have not a certificate of residence will be arrested and be subject to deportation. The bill was referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

[We are of opinion that this measure will never pass the American Congress and become law.—Ed., H.K.T.]

Dean of Worcester.—If you want peace prepare for peace.

Dean Hannah.—Each faulty citizen, who keeps no lofty ideal before him and is content to grovel in the dust, tends to bring the nation to canker and decay.

Mrs. Hugo Ames.—Love is never treated in a serious manner on the modern stage, but is merely put in as a sort of ingredient.

COMMERCIAL.

Hongkong.

Messrs. E. S. Kadoorie & Co. present their weekly report. It states that business during the week ending yesterday has been interrupted owing to Empire Day holiday. Transactions have been somewhat spasmodic in consequence.

Rubber.—Fine hard Para is quoted from London 4.5 per lb. and shares are fairly steady at last reported levels. Singapore continues dull, and Tronohs are quoted round about last week's rates. A telegram was received on Thursday from Singapore, advising that the Sanydroff Rubber Company have declared a final dividend of $1.50 (making 175 per cent. for the year).

Freight Circular.

Messrs. Lamke and Rogge, ship and freight brokers, in their freight circular state that so far as Southern freights are concerned the fortnight under review has brought no improvement whatever. Hardly any freights, worth having, remain on the market at the close.

Saigon-Hongkong.—There is no change for the better to report yet, and a hand to mouth business only has again been done by "regular liners." Although the local rice market has improved in the course of last week, the Saigon values are still above the parity of Hongkong, and a very little disposition is consequently shown for tonnage engagements. The latest private estimates are that exports of rice, broken and bran for 1911 will be 30 to 40 per cent. less than last year, say 700,000 to 800,000 tons instead of 1,000,000 tons. According to statistics this year's exports up to last month amount to total 253,589 tons against 315,000 same period of last year. Quotation stands for May to June shipment No. 2 white round sifted $5.10 per picul of 134 lbs. gross, f.o.b. Saigon against $4.38 same time last year. Total exports this season are 75,190 tons.

The demand remains good, and if the above estimates are correct, the export season may end earlier than usual.

The North reports that "outsiders" are scarce, but on the other hand there are but few inquiries. The regular liners are still doing fairly well, but we understand that the export of rice from Changsha, Siangtan and Hankow is to be prohibited from the 31st of this month.

TRADE IN JAPAN.

COMPETITION IN MACHINERY.

The following significant passage occurs in the trade report of the U.S.A. consul at Kobe:—Formerly British machinery dominated the Japanese market, but German manufacturers have begun to supply cheaper products, for which there is a good demand, so that Germany has become a rival of the United Kingdom for this trade.

I have now to report that American machinery is beginning to compete with both the British and the German products in this line. The opening of the steam service on the north Pacific between the United States and Japan makes it possible for goods from the United States, as far east as New York, to arrive in Japan in about one month, and the freight is much less than from Europe via the Suez Canal. Machinery ordered from Great Britain requires four months for delivery after the issue of the order, while orders from Germany require about five months. Under these circumstances British and German machinery cannot successfully compete with American goods, at least in cases when machinery is urgently required.

A new tendency is becoming apparent among Japanese buyers of machinery. Formerly durability was made the first consideration, but now they are inclined to study cheapness. When replacing old machinery with new, they endeavour to avoid increasing the amount of capital invested.

CHINESE IN SIAM.

The "Straits Echo" makes light of the suggestion that there is a Chinese question in Siam, and flatly denies that it is "an evil thing for any Government that a large part of its population should be alien in its sympathies." In support of its faith it points to the Straits Settlements where the Government has a population of which the bigger part is alien in its sympathies, and says that there at any rate there can be no suggestion that it is an evil thing.

"So long as the Chinese are allowed to work and enjoy their earnings without oppression or unjust exaction, says a Penang contemporary, we can safely promise on their behalf that their alien sympathies will not embarrass the Siamese Government." It is too much to say of any great body of workmen that their actions will always be entirely rational and the very irrational strike dispelled any such belief regarding the Bangkok Chinese.

Proper Understanding.

For a proper understanding of the position Penang should know that it is absurd to say there are more Chinese in Siam than there are Siamese, and also that in the country there is no Chinese exclusiveness and no Chinese question. But in the capital we believe the number of Chinese men rather exceeds the number of Siamese men, and the great mass of them are woefully ignorant, from their exclusiveness they know little or nothing of the Siamese administration and its aims, and they are easily led by agitators. In these facts there are surely the elements of a Chinese question worth at least some attention.—Bangkok Times.

A SHORT SERMON.

Risen with Christ.

If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, seeing that ye put off the old man with his deeds: and put on the new man.—Colossians; iii, 1, 9, 10.

The day breaks and the shadows flee. Against the dark background of Calvary glows a light.

At first it is a little light,—the light of one life purely and truly lived and freely given for others. It falls upon the head of a woman who had sinned. Then the little band of men who longest followed the Man of Galilee feel their souls fired of faith rekindled by its beams.

Slowly it shines out into the narrow world of those far-gone days, calming doubt and quelling despair. None can explain its power, but those who stand in the fullness of its warmth and splendour do not ask to understand.

It lights a new road through an old and storm-strewn experience,—a road of Loving Service.

Steadily it burns, flickering when fierce winds of opposition blow upon it, but never going out, even though for a time it must keep to caves lest blind ignorance quench it and toss another charred wick on the scrap-heap of the past.

It comes from One who had said, "I am the light of the world."

And strangely, wonderfully, it flames higher and higher, illuminating a wider circle and brightening the chambers of the human heart with new hope. Guided by it, men fare on boldly toward the hills. Strengthened by it, men dare all suffering, glorying even in death. Comforted by it, those who are left behind find no complaints.

From land to land and over wide seas it spreads, until in full splendour it shines out as the sun of the soul, bringing into bloom all flowers that lie hid in the soil of heart and ripening the fruit of all good and kind thoughts and desires.

The life of Christ was lived for the purpose of showing how much can be overcome by truth, purity, patience and purpose.

The crucifixion is symbolical of that final moment of apparent failure which so often comes after pain has struggled and tried and, so far as can be seen through human eyes, lost.

But all that is really lost is the material. Out of the valley of this loss of days and things we may rise to the heights of the spiritual, where what we find can never be taken from us.

It is this great and everlasting truth, this indisputable fact, that Easter has brought to us. It is this which should enthuse and encourage us through all trials and sorrows and urge us forward to dwell in the light that is not wholly dependent upon human care for its clear, steady shining,—the light of the spirit of God which is in man.

The risen Christ of this morning says to us across the centuries, as he said to those who beheld Him after the resurrection, "Peace be unto you."

How are we to find peace in a rush of troubled waters such as often surrounds us?

There is but one answer. By taking His life for a pattern; by being guided from day to day by His love and strength and calmness; walking with Him through darkened ways and bearing with Him, all burdens; putting on the "new man."

Coming at last with Him to what seems the end, only to find after a brief struggle, that we fall but to rise,—stronger, better, nobler and more helpful for the crosses we have overcome!

Standing with Him, till out of the Dawn.

The voice of the Father calls us home.

Rev. Moffat Gautrey.—We have estimated the value of human life too long by pounds, shillings and pence.

Mr. Harold Gorst.—General education smothered individuality. Lord Chief Justice.—Next to drink there is nothing which tends so much to produce crime as loafing and loitering.

Mr. Ellwood Hendrick.—Courage and bravery are not achieved by buying a lawyer.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

The Best Way to Shoot Crows.

George was going to school. You knew that from two things. In the first place he had the second grade speller under his arm, and in the second, he was moving along very slowly. It would never do to rush toward the school-house till he was near and had only a minute to get into his seat. This particular bright spring morning, as he wandered along the country road, he did not give school a thought.

Suddenly a harsh "Caw, caw, caw!" aroused him and he picked up a stone. There was a big black crow sailing grandly in the air over a white birch tree. George waited for it to alight, then he threw the stone at it. He did not hit it, so he picked up another stone and threw that, with no better luck.

Now he noticed that the crow was perched on a big bunch of vines, sticks and grass. "A nest," he thought. "I'll climb up and get the eggs."

He started to put his speller down and, for the first time, thought of school. "I'll get them when I come back," he said to himself. But he did not think of the crows again until night. Then he asked his father to buy him an air rifle.

"Don't think of it, Henry," exclaimed Mrs. Rice. "He'll shoot us all."

"What do you want of a rifle?" asked his father.

"Oh! as I was going to school I saw a crow, and I'd just like to take a shot at him!"

"Well, you can't have a rifle, but I'll tell you what I'll do," replied his father. "I'll shoot him for you if you like."

"Great!" shouted George, "and we'll have him stuffed and put in my room!"

"I'm afraid not, George," his father spoke quite firmly, "but there'll be something to show for the shot."

The next morning, on his way to school, George noticed two crows in the tree. One seemed to be keeping guard, and the other was on the nest. George picked up four stones and threw them. One stone hit the tree. He would have climbed up, but he had on a new sailor suit, and he did like that sailor suit with the broad, white collar.

That afternoon, as he had promised, Mr. Rice went with George to the birch tree. The nest was there, but the crows were nowhere to be seen. George was terribly disappointed.

"Isn't that always the way, Daddy! Now we're here, there's nothing to shoot!"

"Well," said his father, "we might climb up the tree and look inside the nest."

Mr. Rice boosted George up and climbed up after him.

"Hooray,—five eggs!" cried George, very much excited. "That's fine, George! Now we'll take our first shot," Mr. Rice unslinging the camera he had brought, and when it was carefully aimed, George pressed the button.

"Notice the colour," said Mr. Rice. "Pale bluish green with small, light-brown markings. In a week we'll come and take another shot."

On the next Saturday afternoon, father and son again climbed the tree. Of course, George went first. When he was high enough to look into the nest he shouted, "Oh, Daddy, they've hatched!"

Sure enough, there were four baby crows! The fifth egg had not hatched. The little birds kept stretching their necks and opening their big mouths, for they were too young to be afraid.

George took a shot at them with the camera. Then he and his father got up into a neighbouring pine tree to see what would happen.

Pretty soon Mrs. Crow came flying to the nest with something in her beak. She thrust the morsel down one of the open mouths, then flew away again. "What's she giving them?" asked George.

"Milk," repeated George doubtfully. "How do you make that out?"

"Why, it's this way," explained his father. "Mrs. Crow came from the direction of Mr. Pinkham's cornfield, and as we passed the field, I remember seeing some crows there, pulling up the stalks of corn to get at the grain which had been planted. The grain has not the hard shell covering now, and the inside has become softened by the warmth and rains; so the babies get corn milk."

"I shouldn't think Mr. Pinkham would like to have his corn dug up. Why doesn't he shoot them?"

"No doubt he has," answered Mr. Rice. "Still the crows eat the cut worms, which if not killed would destroy more corn than the crows do. Now here comes Mr. Crow with a worm. Watch him!"

George saw Mr. Crow shove the worm down a hungry throat and fly away.

"Daddy," said George, "the nest is just like a little cradle rocking in the wind."

During the following week George paid several visits to the nest, and found that the crows were getting less and less afraid of him. They were also growing very rapidly.

On Saturday Mr. Rice lifted one upon a limb, and George took a picture of it while his father fed it.

A week later he took his last picture of them. How funny and wise they looked all in a row! "I guess they'd talk if they could," said George. "I'm glad, Daddy, that we shot them with a camera instead of with a gun. They seem almost like people!"

On Monday morning, George took all the pictures with him to show Miss Cullen, his teacher. On his way, he met Harold Johnson coming across the field with an air rifle.

"Hello, Harold!" he shouted.

"What are you shooting?"

"Any old thing," replied Harold. "Crows maybe. Have you seen any?"

"Yes," George replied, "and I've shot some with my father's camera. Just look at the pictures! From the egg to the full grown crow!"

Harold looked and was delighted. "They're all right, George," he said. "I didn't know crows could be so interesting."

Just then a big crow settled on the wall near by.

Harold raised his gun, aimed it, then lowered it. "Well, on second thought, I guess I'm not shooting crows to-day, George. I'm looking for sparrows."

The Easter Cake.

Jeanette and Isabel and me, We baked an Easter cake, we three.

It was to be an angel cake, But someone made a sad mistake;

I don't know how it came about,—

The flour, somehow, was quite left out,

And so, when it was baked, you see,

The cake was sad,—and so were we.

Of course, when father came to tea,

Jeanette and Isabel and me "Showed" him our cake. He shook his head.

But took a piece to taste and said

That it was good—the very best

He ever ate, and that he guessed

"Twas 'fallen angel' cake we had!

And then we were not quite so sad.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1911.

THE NEED OF THE MOMENT.

If constant dropping of water wears away a stone, the spirit of pessimism which now enervates the commercial activity of China should shortly disappear. From Manchuria, from Chihli, from the interior, from Shanghai, Hankow and the South come reports telling of appeals similar to that made recently by His Excellency the Governor of Hongkong. They all strike the same note—the note of the need of the moment, optimism, and it calls for no apology by us to refer for the third time to the same subject. The strongest criticism of the prevailing pessimism comes from Shanghai. In our news columns to-day we publish a most interesting extract from the report on the trade of Shanghai issued by Messrs. Noel Murray, the well-known brokers. With the condition of the piece goods market, the output and the tea market we are not actively concerned at the moment, but Messrs. Noel Murray have important remarks to make on the state of the money market. As our readers are aware the recent crisis in Shanghai caused the failure of several native banks. The situation, as it has developed, indicates a very extraordinary paradoxicality. Money, that is hard cash, is plentiful, too plentiful in fact, but credit is restricted to the vanishing point. The market is obsessed by the spirit of fear, apparently without cause, and hoards and banks fail, with money "to burn" at their command. Messrs. Noel Murray do not mince matters in referring to this. They describe the manner in which things are being allowed to drift along as "shameful," and the general situation in Shanghai as "one of the greatest blots on the trade of the place." As we know now, the crisis was developed principally by the mad speculation in rubber which characterised the China coast last year; but, as the brokers point out, the only men who could unravel the financial tangle are kept in prison, their muddled affairs being handed over to persons naturally unable adequately to straighten them out. This is but another indication of the workings of the spirit of fear which pervades our markets, and we join heartily with Messrs. Noel Murray, with His Excellency the Governor, and with those others in various parts of China who plead for an energetic optimism. The Shanghai situation may be regarded as symptomatic of all China at the moment. We have burned our fingers and the hurt is such that we fear to take the stringent, if painful, measures which would bring alleviation. Instead we are inclined to consider ourselves irrevocably crippled, when, in reality, we have but been given a salutary lesson. We have fallen by the wayside, but it is a poor pride which permits us to lie prone without effort. This is the condition of Shanghai,—prone in the middle of its own mistakes, and, as Noel Murray says, it appears to be no one's business to raise up again the debased credit of the great port. We are forced to consider the circumstances pregnant with menacing possibilities. The China trade is vitally dependent on unshaken credit, and unless we put off from us the garment of pessimism which now envelops us we cannot hope to re-create a stable financial situation. Optimism, optimism, and again optimism should be our cry. With it, and the courage to put behind us our mistakes, we will come into our own again.

COMPANY MEETING.

The "Star" Ferry Co., Ltd.

The thirteenth ordinary annual meeting of the "Star" Ferry Co., Ltd., was held this afternoon at the offices of Messrs. Dowell & Co., Ltd., Queen's Buildings. There were present Messrs. G. H. Medhurst, presiding; C. Gordon Mackie, the hon. Mr. C. H. Ross, directors; Ho Fook, W. H. Potts, A. E. Griffin, Wong Kam Fuk, Haskell, P. C. Potts and L. Lamperski.

The Chairman said:—With your permission I propose to take the report and accounts as read. The profit on working account shows, I am pleased to say, an improvement due partly to larger receipts and partly to economies. The New Lee House Street Pier, referred to at our last meeting, will probably be finished in about 4 months' time, but will cost more than was anticipated and a large proportion of the money at present earning interest will be required to pay for same, which means that our revenue from interest will be considerably reduced. Also, in years to come it will be necessary to allow for depreciation, &c. of the new pier. In view of these facts, although the balance at credit of profit and loss permits of a larger distribution of profits, your directors do not recommend it. The Lee House Street pier site after many years' delay has now been secured by the Company up to 31st December, 1940. With its acquisition we have been compelled to assume considerable responsibilities in connection with the railway traffic, but at the same time we have secured advantages which I think will insure the Ferry Co. against loss. As regards the prospects for next year, I think we may reasonably look forward to an increase in traffic receipts when the railway is linked up with Canton, and if the Government prohibit the circulation of alien copper cents there will be a reduction in the loss on subsidiary coins.

There being no questions the chairman moved the adoption of the accounts. Mr. Ho Fook seconded and the motion was carried. On the proposition of P. C. Potts seconded by Mr. A. E. Griffin the confirmation of the appointment of Messrs. G. H. Medhurst, C. Gordon Mackie and the Hon. Mr. C. H. Ross as directors, was agreed to. Mr. G. H. Medhurst was re-elected as director on the proposition of Mr. Lamperski seconded by Mr. Wong Kam Fuk. Mr. W. H. Potts was re-appointed auditor on the motion of Mr. Ho Fook, seconded by Mr. Haskell. The Chairman announced that the dividend warrants might be had on application on Monday and the meeting then terminated.

THEATRICAL DIVORCE SUIT.

At Hongkong at the beginning of this month, a divorce suit, brought by Florence Masson against her husband Michael P. Masson, was heard before Mr. Justice Robinson. Mrs. Masson, who is well-known in Hongkong as Miss Florence Hamer, was the leading lady in Bandmann's Comedy Co. The suit was brought on the usual grounds. A decree nisi with costs was granted. On behalf of respondent Mr. Cottman said he had been instructed on behalf of his client to say that a decree for finalimony would be quite useless, bearing in mind the financial position of respondent. The Judge said that would be a matter for another petition.

Mr. W. S. Bailey has been asked if he would be agreeable to act as referee in the forthcoming Kenny-Carlson contest. Mr. Bailey is willing to do so, and Kenny is prepared to fight under his direction. The request, however, has been made quite unofficially, necessarily so, since Carlson has not yet arrived.

THE DRAGON BOAT
RACE.

History of the Festival.

[SPECIAL ARTICLE.]

On Thursday of next week occurs the Chinese Festival of the Dragon Boat—that day being the 5th of the 5th moon. The festival is observed as a gala day by the Chinese. In Canton especially the celebrations are carried out on a most elaborate scale and are the means of attracting many thousands of visitors from Hongkong and the southern provinces.

This year, however, the Viceroy of Canton has prohibited the holding of the famous annual dragon boat race in connection with the festival on the ground that it would be a danger to the public peace, in view of the recent rising and present state of unrest in the City of Rams; for like other great celebrations in all countries, the festival draws to the city had characters from far and near, and affrays between the criminal fraternity and the police are by no means infrequent.

In Hongkong, the dragon boat race is held at Aberdeen; and although our local event is on a much smaller scale than the Canton race, it is witnessed every year by thousands of Chinese from all parts of the Colony. The race itself is both Weird and Barbaric. The long narrow canoes, with curving prows, fanciful carving, and banners flying, carrying from fifty to eighty of a crew apiece, row up to the starting line to the beating of gongs and shrill yells of encouragement or defiance; and at the given signal away they speed at a pace that is truly wonderful.

The swiftly moving canoes, the gleaming paddle blades, the glistering naked bodies of the crews, the clamour of the gongs and the frenzied shouts of the rowers: all these go to make up a spectacle as exciting as it is picturesque. When the race is finished the victors are not slow to make a parade of their prowess and there is a great deal of feasting and drinking to follow.

The origin of the Dragon Boat Festival is somewhat obscured in the Mists of Antiquity. But tradition tells that it is connected with the commemoration of a great and good statesman, Wat Yuen of the Cho country (now known as Hunan), who flourished many centuries ago. This Wat Yuen by reason of his good qualities and of the high estimation in which he was held in the hearts of the people, was impeached by jealous and powerful enemies, and he was banished by the King of Cho to Kiangnan (now known as Kiangsu). This injustice so preyed upon the statesman's mind that in a fit of despondency he jumped into the river and drowned himself. This event happened on the 5th day of the 5th moon.

Soon after Wat Yuen's death the people of Cho began to realise very keenly the great loss they had sustained by his death and they mourned his untimely end. To keep his memory green, it became the custom to offer sacrifices on the anniversary of his death. The Sacrificial Offerings consisted of rice thrown broadcast into the river. It so happened, say the records, that on the night following one of the earliest sacrifices, the spirit of Yuen appeared in dreams before certain wise men of the Cho country and complained that all the rice that had been thrown into the river for him had been eaten by the fish, leaving him none.

On the occasion of the next festival, therefore, the people made their offerings of rice into dumplings, wrapped up in leaves, so that the fish could not get at the contents. Also, they introduced the dragon boats in which to convey the sacrificial dumplings out into the middle of the river. Before that time ordinary small boats had been used for the purpose.

As years went on the crews of the dragon boats made a practice of racing each other to the place at which the offerings had to be cast into the river.

and so on, through the centuries, has been evolved the great Dragon Boat Festival of China with its merry-making, junketings, clanging of drums and gongs and wild skirl of music. The noisy accompaniments to the festival are intended to scare away the hungry fish. On the day of the festival, paper dragon boats, gay with colours, may be found in every dwelling, as well as quantities of the sacrificial dumplings, which are in due course consumed after "joss" has been paid to the memory of Wat Yuen.

This year, seeing that the dragon boat race has been proscribed in Canton, it is expected that there will be many more spectators at the Aberdeen race than has been the case in former years.

SIAMESE ROYALTIES IN HONGKONG.

Arrive This Morning

This morning the Siamese Royal yacht Mahachakri arrived in Hongkong from Bangkok, having on board Her Majesty, the Queen Mother of Siam with two young Princes of the Blood who are going to Europe, by way of Siberia, to complete their education. The Royal yacht was escorted by a small Siamese gunboat. At nine o'clock a Royal Salute was fired by the land battery in honour of the distinguished visitors; the U.S.S. Wilmington dressed ship.

The party includes, besides the Queen Mother and the young Princes, H.R.H. the Princess of Siam, Lady-in-Waiting; fifteen Ladies-in-Waiting, the Siamese Minister to Paris and his wife; H.R.H. Prince Devawongse, Minister for Foreign Affairs; H.R.H. Prince Narit, Dr. P. Aprasit; H. E. Rear-Admiral Phya Jayawongse, aide-camp, Mr. Luang Sunthorn, of the Foreign Office, with secretaries to the Minister, pages and female attendants; also sixteen young students who are going with the Princess to Europe.

Soon after the arrival of the Mahachakri, Captain P. H. Taylor, A. D. C. to H.E. the Governor, Sir Frederick Lugard, went on board the yacht and conveyed to Her Majesty the Queen Mother and the Royal party His Excellency's welcome to the Colony and condolences in the bereavement they had sustained in the death of H.M. King Chulalongkorn. On behalf of the Governor, Captain Taylor also extended to Her Majesty and suite an invitation to accept the hospitality of Government House.

Her Majesty, however, intimated that she is desirous of remaining strictly incognito during her stay in the Colony and graciously declined the offer of a guard of honour and the usual celebrations attendant upon an official landing. H.M. the Queen Mother remained on board the Royal yacht to-day and will not come ashore until to-morrow afternoon, when the landing will be a purely private one. During Her Majesty's stay in Hongkong, she will reside at "The Grove," in Macdonnell Road, belonging to Dr. G. P. Jordan.

The young Princes, with the other students, will leave for the North by the Pacific Mail s.s. Korea to-morrow afternoon and will travel overland by Siberia to Europe.

This morning H.R.H. Prince Devawongse, Minister for Foreign Affairs, and several members of the Royal suite came ashore about ten o'clock at Blake Pier, where special chairs were in waiting, and visited various places of interest in the city. The Minister and suite all wore European dress, with mourning bands on their sleeves and tops.

The arrangements for entertaining the Royal party are in the hands of Mr. J. H. N. Moody, who is acting for his father, Sir Horam Moody, at the Siamese Consulate.

SPECIAL

CHINA AND JAPAN.

["INDEPENDENT NEWS" AGENCY.]

Tokio, May 27.

The New Viceroy of the Three Eastern Provinces paid an official visit to the Japanese Consul General Koke at Mukden yesterday when he expressed himself emphatically to the effect that he is most anxious to improve the relations between China and Japan, and "attach both nations as close as one family."

It may be possible that some trouble may arise between the parties, but he will ever be in earnest to settle the matter by the best possible means.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The Crying Need of Optimism

The following important criticism of the financial situation in Shanghai is taken from Messrs. Nool Murray's report on the trade of that port, further extracts from which appear in our commercial column.

"The extraordinary position of the money market still continues, namely a plethora of actual hard cash, but a so greatly restricted credit that no use can be made of it, owing to the want of confidence that still prevails on all sides." This has been greatly enhanced by the shameful manner in which all the questions relating to the failures last year of the Native Banks are being allowed to drift along. The only men that could in any way unravel the complicated mass of commercial and speculative transactions that have got so inextricably mixed up, are kept in durance vile, and their affairs put in the hands of men unacquainted with the business, with the consequence that millions of taels have been irretrievably lost. "Rumour has it that in the case of several of the insolvent Banks small percentages of the liabilities have been ready for payment for some time past, but nothing is done to distribute the dividends." This has been one of the greatest of blots on the trade of this place, and it does not seem to be any one's business to try and retrieve its credit. The policy of drift has been allowed to go on too long; surely it is time for some of our public bodies to take the matter energetically in hand and save the face of this great trade centre."

Two more cases of plague have occurred during the twenty-four hours ending noon to-day. Both are Chinese and are dead. The total number since January 1st is 58.

Tuesday next, 30th May, is Memorial Day in America, when the graves of the soldiers who fell in the Civil War are honoured. The ship's company of the U.S.S. Wilmington will celebrate the anniversary.

MANCHURIAN NOTES.

Disastrous Fires in the North.

According to later advices from Kirin, says the "Manchurian Daily News," about 400 people perished in the flames, besides, 200 more robbed and murdered for the sake of their money by a gang of cut-throats who improved the opportunity for their operations to the utmost. There might have been 100 other fatalities caused by the conflagration, bringing up the gruesome total to 700. The Chinese government plan where the provincial notes are put out having been destroyed by its hoard of notes, in addition to the immense holdings of the wealthy merchants, packets of the notes are now being transported from Changchun to Kirin to meet the most need of the present moment. Fears are entertained of a panic coming on in the commercial circle.

Relief From Harbin.

The response to an appeal for relief to the victims of the recent conflagration, as sent to Harbin by Prince Meshchersky, the Russian Consul, Kirin, was prompt as it was liberal. Two steam-haulers and junks, all laden to the full with flour, kuoliang, &c., were dispatched from Laohsiaokou up the Sunguri to the afflicted city. The generous mover in this benevolent undertaking is not to be known definitely yet, except that it is probably the Chinese Eastern Railway. The distress of the 150 Japanese sufferers who have lost all their belongings and who are being cared for at the Japanese Consulate, there, is extreme. The Governor of the Province offered a timely relief in kind right after the fire. The leading Japanese residents of Changchun raised a voluntary contribution with which a supply of provisions was procured and was carted to Kirin.

Effects of Conflagration on Changchun.

The City of Changchun is feeling the direct effects of the Kirin conflagration. The former city has been the main supply centre on which the afflicted city with tens of thousands of its inhabitants reduced to homeless, and many of them, penniless circumstances has depended upon for the necessary stores, such as millet, Kaoliang and other cereals, oiler matting, etc., of which the Changchun market has already been drained off, and for which the country about Changchun is now being literally dragged. In the second place, many of the principal trade concerns within the walls of Changchun have their head-offices at Kirin, which city, apart from the above mentioned commercial relations, has been interlocked closely with Changchun as the latter's chief customer. In the third place, the loss of the Government Printing Office, where the provincial notes were printed, together with a large hoard of these notes and others held by the well-to-do merchants has caused a general exodus of the notes in Changchun to Kirin, thus raising the exchange rates daily.

Fire at Yingkou.

Fires have been alarmingly frequent in Manchuria as they have been in Japan. The Yuanchang Bean Mill just outside East Gate, Yingkou, caught fire on Friday evening and turned into a mass of flames threatening to spread in all directions. The Japanese fire brigade combated them heroically and put them out in 3 hours, but only after the entire plant was reduced to ashes. It was insured to the extent of £130,000.

The Mill was opened at Yingkou in spring last year by a Chinese concern who had left Dairen to have a new start in business. The machinery and other equipments were all of the up-to-date type and the Mill itself was only second in scale to the Kodera Mill, it having a producing capacity for about 2,000 bean cakes per diem. It is supposed to have been involved in extensive business dealings, especially just at the present juncture when the exporters seem still eager to contract for purchases in anticipation of the rise of the import tariff in Japan in the coming July.

There is little doubt that, in these circumstances, the loss of this Mill has made its effect felt in the local market and it appears suggestive that the quotation of Taels 11.2.10, that is S. Y. 1.437 per cake recorded on the day preceding the fire should have risen by Taels 3.10 on the day following it, making the price almost un-negotiable to the buyers.

THE NATIONALIZATION OF PRIVATE RAIL-WAYS.

The people of Hupoh are forming an association to be called "The National Railway Loans Opposition Union," with the object of opposing the raising of the foreign loans and the robbing of the people. Hunan and Szechuan are heartily in favour of it. It intends to work in concert with the Provincial Councils Union in attaining its objects. The Szechuan and Kwangtung officials in Peking are increased at the redemption of the private trunk lines, and have met several times to consider what action they should take in the matter. It is understood that they have decided by a majority that the Ministry of Finance and Communications should be made to refund to the shareholders in full the capital they have subscribed, with interest, and to pay them compensation for any damage they may have suffered. Some are in favour of ignoring the edict altogether, as the matter has not been discussed by the Cabinet.

COST OF THE SING-APORE GARRISON.

The cost of the Singapore garrison during the years 1900-10 was £208,338. The Colony's contribution was £177,878, leaving £120,460 as the amount by which the cost exceeded the contribution. The total cost is made up of the following items:—Pay of the Army, £93,029; medical establishment, £3,899; educational establishment, £288; transport, barrack services, lodging allowance, etc., £27,723; provisions, forage, fuel and light, clothing, etc., £46,064; ordinance department establishment and general stores, £5,188; armament and engineer stores, £45,822; works and buildings, £32,597; miscellaneous services, £219; pay, etc., of army accounts department, £1,523; non-effective services, £21,459; home effective charges, £17,470; military works loan, £3,052.—"Straits Times."

SUBMARINE PAINT.

In its Chemical Notes, "Knowledge" describes some very ingenious submarine paints. The chief object of these is to prevent corrosion and to keep away organisms which attach themselves to things below the water. Holzapfel, in 1895, prepared a paint, the inner layer of which was anti-corrosive and the outer charged with poison. Reaction took place between the two layers and cracking was the result. This trouble has now been remedied by the production of the paint, the outer coating of which consists of amalgam of copper incorporated with an earthy pigment and a waterproof medium. As soon as marine organisms attack this coat the amalgam is exposed, and voltaic currents are produced which set free poisonous compounds of copper and mercury, and destroy the intruders. Thus the action is only brought about in places where it is necessary, and the life of the paint is doubled.—"Straits Times."

Yesterday afternoon His Excellency presented trophies to the winning teams of the Hongkong Schools Football League, at Government House: Senior Competition—Schools' Shield; St. Joseph's College; Junior Competition—Governor's Cup; (presented by H. E. Sir Frederick Lugard)—Wantsai School. Each member of the winning teams received a small shield with his name engraved on it. Tea was afterwards served on the north verandah of Government House.

SUPREME COURT.

Settled.

At the Supreme Court, this morning, before Mr. Justice Gompertz, Hop Yuen Hing Lung Koo sued the Wa Cheong Lung Firm to recover the sum of $1,000, being the price of goods sold and delivered to the defendants.

Mr. Harding appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Reader Harris for the defendant.

Mr. Harris: "I appear on behalf of the defendant and I am instructed to agree to judgment, and to a stay of personal execution for a fortnight."

Mr. Harding: "That is, no arrest for a fortnight."

His Lordship: Can I make an order like that?

Mr. Harding: Well, I agree to it, my lord.

Judgment was accordingly entered as agreed.

A Question of Guarantee.

Before the same judge, the Connaught Aerated Water Manufacturing Co., Ltd., sued the Ki Sang Chan firm to recover the sum of $864.88, being the balance due for goods sold and delivered to the Wing Fung firm in Canton, payment for the same being guaranteed by the defendants.

Mr. Reader Harris appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. F. X. d'Almada e Castro defended.

The case for the plaintiff as opened by Mr. Harris showed that the plaintiff firm had a branch in Canton, and was registered as a company in Hongkong. The Wing Fung firm of Canton had applied to the branch office to be supplied with goods, but the request was refused unless they could provide a guarantor. They proposed the defendant company and this was accepted by the head office. A guarantee note was taken to the defendant firm and it was clamped by a man who purported to be a manager. Thereupon the plaintiffs supplied a quantity of goods to the Wing Fung firm, they making payments on account from time to time. It was for the balance that the plaintiffs were suing the defendants.

Mr. d'Almada e Castro:—We say that we never guaranteed and that the chop was not our money chop.

Judgment for defendant with costs.

Plague in Formosa. Two hundred and fifty-one cases of plague are reported in Formosa.

Presence of Mind. Regarding the French aeroplane accident the "North China Daily News" says that when M. Monia's son saw the aeroplane speeding towards the official party, he pushed his father down to the ground, thus probably saving his life.

A projecting part of the aeroplane struck M. Antoine lightly.

Russian Troops. Reports from Peking put the number of Russian troops in North Manchuria at 25,500, while the Chinese force on route and distributed in the regions of Tait-sihar and Harbin is said to number nearly 130,000 (?)

A Royal Quadrille. London, May 20.—At the State Ball the German Emperor and Empress, with King George and Queen Mary, danced a quadrille.

Volunteer Corps. The United Provincial Assemblies Association has decided that the people of the whole empire should inaugurate Volunteer Corps for the preservation of peaceful government and defence against foreign aggressions.

Japanese Fur Dealers. The proposal is now being mooted among the Japanese fur dealers to establish a fur station and offices in China (says the "Peking Daily News"). The new customs being so high on furs imported from England, France or America, it is almost impossible to engage in the business successfully in Japan, and for this reason offices in China may be chosen.

REFORM IN MEXICO.

Insurrection Successful.

I believe that the Mexican insurrection will be successful. This does not necessarily mean, however, the deposition of President Porfirio Diaz. Diaz will agree to grant what the revolutionists require, and they will accept his promise and subsidy. Diaz realizes the need of reform and understands the general sympathy that the intelligent Mexicans feel with the reformers. Ninety per cent. of the Mexicans sympathize with the revolutionists, though only about 10 per cent. are willing to fight. They want a bloodless revolution. The probabilities are that they will secure one.

Want Better Men.

The revolutionists want new and better men in office, the Governors of States elected by the people, and the abolition of jefe politicos. Diaz seems to be wide awake to the situation and doing all in his power to purify officialdom. The old Cabinet has gone and many of the Governors of the States have been changed.

No Racial Inequality.

There are three principal races in Mexico—Indians, Spaniards and mixed—but they do not desire to be considered as Indians or Spaniards, much less as half breeds. That last name is offensive to them. All announce that they are Mexicans and proud of it. Those whom I speak of as Spaniards are of Spanish blood but born in Mexico. There is no racial inequality, as here. All are intensely patriotic, are proud of Mexico's past and filled with the hope and belief that her future is to be glorious.

Wonderful Country.

Mexicans like us—in our place. But the fear that some day we may attempt to assimilate them—more or less benevolently—is most disturbing, and we should be careful not to excite it. I like Mexico. It is a wonderful country, beautiful, and of immense undeveloped resources. We boast of the winter climate of Florida and California, and compared with the New England climate they are admirable. But as far superior as they are to New England, just so far is Mexico superior to them.

All Catholics.

The bull fight seems to be losing in popularity in Mexico. Only the announcement of exceptionally fine bulls now fills seats around the arena. The Mexicans are taking to sports, and baseball is becoming very popular. There is no gambling in the country other than the Government lottery, which, I believe, is square. There is no trouble between Church and State. All the Mexicans are Roman Catholics, but the priests are not allowed to meddle with the Government, Church and State have their separate and complementary fields, in which they stay.

Exaggeration of Troubles.

There has been in the press here gross exaggeration of the troubles in Mexico. Armies and battles figuring in the dispatches have been about three-fourths imaginary. There is a disturbance and good cause for disturbance, for Mexicans generally are determined to end the intolerable grafting and oppression from which they are suffering—and they will end it. They want to make the change with no bloodshed or as little bloodshed as possible.

American Attitude.

Now is the time for us to show ourselves good neighbours, which is not to be done by sitting on the fence in an attitude of a vulture watching the battlefield in expectation of plunder. There are many friendly things we can do for our good friend Mexico at this time and we should do it with a thorough good will. An American in the "Independent."

LOG BOOK.

Coaling Records.

The coaling prize of the First Squadron of the High Seas Fleet has been given to the Westfalen, which recently took aboard 507 tons within the hour, the hourly average being 113.8 tons. This performance has only been surpassed by the Schleswig-Holstein, which attained the record of 509 tons and an average of 493.8 tons per hour. Coaling-ship has now been brought into the category of war exercises, as stress is laid on the high importance of speedy coaling in war time. In a communication issued by the Flottenverein, the coaling performances of German and French warships are compared, very much to the disadvantage of the latter. The Verein, however, has overlooked one very important fact—namely, that frigates are used almost exclusively in the French Navy, and that the storing in bunkers of this class of fuel is a very tedious process.

Shipping Federation.

The Shipping Federation and the committee of the Warespite seem to have put their heads together and arrived at the conclusion that the supply of white British-born seamen for British merchant ships is deserving of closer attention than it has been receiving. It would appear that in the near future the Shipping Federation scheme for boy sailors and apprentices—which has never left anything much to be desired, except, perhaps, a grant demand for youngsters desirous of going to sea for a living—will be brought more closely in connection with the training-ship of Greenhithe and her excellent lads. The Warespite, the indefatigable in the Morsey, and the Wellesley in the Tyne, have all done good work as mercantile marine training-ships; and the present demand for more vessels of the kind, but for ships in which to send the boys to sea. The new combination may provide this opening.

Japan and Eastern Waters.

In view of the determined bid which Japan is making for the supremacy of her shipping in the Far Eastern waters it is surprising to learn that the Japanese Government are making arrangements to withdraw the subsidies from the lines running on the China coast. They have called, it is stated, for reports from officials concerned, with a view to shutting off the subsidies paid to Japanese shipping companies engaged in coastal navigation, such as the lines to Kyushu, Dairen, Shikoku, up the Yangtze River, and to the China ports generally, whose contracts expire next year or the year after, and of forcing the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Osaka Shosen Kaisha and the Nisshin Kisen Kaisha, after the present term, to maintain these lines without the assistance of the State.

The White Ensign.

At a dinner of the St. George's Society, Halifax, speeches were made by Admiral Kingsmill and Captain Macdonald, of the Niobe, against any change in the White Ensign as used by the ships of the Canadian navy.

Admiral Kingsmill congratulated the company on the fact that the White Ensign was now flying on the Niobe. It seemed incredible to him that any change should be proposed in the flag. He did not know of anything of the kind being considered in Canada or Great Britain, but he observed with regret that some such suggestion had been made in Australia. Any change in the White Ensign would be very injurious to the Canadian navy. Captain Macdonald said he hoped the White Ensign would never be embellished or mutilated by any change or addition. The flag was greatest as it was.

He appealed to all present to use their influence to prevent any change whatever in the White Ensign, and to let Canadian ships use it only.

Dr. John Wilson.—I do not believe that golf and other pastimes are greater reasons than preaching for people absenting themselves from church.

Mr. F. Roscoe.—Sympathy or feeling is at least as important as culture and detachment of mind.
